Profile:

Brown is a skilled point guard who has a crafty offensive skill set and plays with a good defensive mentality. While he excels with the ball in his hands, he also has the ability to move off the ball to find open shots and stress the defense. Brown has great range and is not hesitant to shoot from several feet beyond the arc. He has terrific quickness as a ball handler and his low crossovers protect the ball while allowing him to blow by defenders. Once he gets near the rim, he relies on creative and acrobatic moves to finish against bigger opponents. Brown also offers a smooth mid range pull up jumpshot and a refined turn-around fade. Although Brown has many scoring tools, his passing is the most complete part of his game. He frequently gets into the lane to draw defenders and often makes the right decision. Brown's size limits his defensive upside, but there is no doubt that he has a tenacious attitude on that end of the floor.
